Roadside Theatres.

I love to enter pleasure by a postern,
Not the broad popular gate that gulfs the mob;
To find my theatre in roadside nooks,
Where men are actors, and suspect it not;
Where Nature all unconscious works her will,
And every passion moves with human gait,
Unhindered by the buskin or the train,
Hating the crowd, where we gregarious men
Lead lonely lives, I love society.
Nor seldom find the best with simple souls
Unswayed by culture from their native bent,
The ground we meet on being prima vista,
And nearer the deep lives of our lives.
J. E. LOVELL, in June Atlantic.

A Phase of Married Life in the Sandwich Islands.

The Gazette of Honolulu tells this curious story:

A Hawaiian who had been for some time past working on one of the Gunno Islands, was paid off lately, and found himself the happy possessor of $140 cash. With this little fortune in hand, he proceeded to enjoy himself generally, instead of returning to his home and sharing the proceeds of his labor with his wife. Of course the money quickly disappeared, and the penniless and repentant husband turned to his home, seeking perhaps sympathy in his troubles, but the indignant wife informed him that he was not welcome; indeed, that his conduct was execrable, and that her aloha for him was poai. Jealousy added its sting to the reproaches of the angered wife, and therefore no amount of protestations of innocence could bring about a reconciliation. The case had passed beyond the arbitrament of reason, and an appeal was made by the husband to a learned kahuna for advice as to how the aloha of his wife might be regained, and his own innocence demonstrated. The kahuna, after due deliberation, decided that Kaiaha should submit his case to the mano (shark) by jumping overboard after nightfall, when sharks are most numerous in the harbor and ravenous for food, and if Mr. Shark let him off, the wife could do no less. He must also, while in the water, inform the finny judges of the case by shouting poa Poa, poa Mano, when if innocent he would escape to the shore unharmed; but if guilty would be needed out at sea. This appeal to the mano is one of the old Hawaiian superstitions, the efficacy of which is not esteemed among the educated Hawaiians of to-day. The appeal to the shark was made on Thursday night, by Kaiaha jumping off the steamboat wharf. He swam across the reef and landed at the foot of Richard street. A crowd of natives gathered about him, and the wife, with her jealousy dispelled, received him at his house, and the family discord was removed. What the sharks thought of the case has not transpired, but as they did not sup on the swimmer, it is fair to conclude that they did not comprehend the chance that was offered them, of making an excellent meal on a delinquent husband. If the appeal to the mano was universally imperative on demand by indignant wives, we fear that now and then a citizen might be carried out to sea.

A HOME OF TASTE.—Engravings shed their spirit over a household; the calm portraits of the great and worthy dead, exercise a great influence over me," says Sidney Smith. "I could look on these over my own fire-place until they seem neither absent nor departed, but living yet. Every good picture is the best of sermons and lectures. The sense informs the soul. Whatever you have, have beauty. Let beauty be on the paper on your walls. It is as easy to choose a paper suggestive of the lovely in form and color, as the uncouth. Why should not every household object be sanctified with this graceful charm? Each chair, table, tea or chamber service, and every object for kitchen or parlor, for the home of the poor man, artisan or mechanic, I would have them all worthy of a home of taste."

AN EASY LESSON IN MINOR MORALS.—It is never necessary for a gentleman, or a man of culture, to call another a liar; that is the resort of the rude and illiterate. "Shall I call him a liar?" asked an excited shopman of his master, a Quaker. "There had better prove him a liar, Silas," replied the Quaker, placidly; "that will hurt him more." "Does the Senator from Massachusetts call me a liar?" roared a Southern bully in the old time. "No," calmly replied Mr. Sumner, "I say he has made a statement which has no foundation in fact," and the bully sat down overwhelmed by the laughter of the Senate. So the Manchester Guardian a few weeks ago remarked that an assertion of Mr. Disraeli was "conspicuously inexact." How much more effective was that than calling him a liar!—N. Y. Post.

TO SWEEP STAIR CARPET.—A stair carpet should be swept with a short brush, holding the dust-pan close under each stair. Never sweep the dirt from one stair to another. By doing so, the carpet on the lower stairs becomes much soiled.

The American Cooking Stove in Court.

At an adjourned term of the Circuit Court of the United States, for the Northern District of New York, in the second circuit held at the City Hall, in the city of Albany, the 25th day of January, in the year of our Lord 1868.

PRESENT: The Hon. NATHAN K. HALL, Judge.

JACOB H. SHEAR & JOSEPH PACKARD, In Equity

GEO. B. BULL & JOHN M. ROCKWELL, vs. The American Cooking Stove Co.

It is further ordered, adjudged and decreed, that a perpetual injunction be issued in this suit against the defendants, restraining them from further infringement of said Patent, No. 51,406, Dated Dec. 5th, 1865, for improvements in cooking stoves, pursuant to and in accordance with the prayer of the Bill of Complaint.

Signed A. A. BOYCE, Clerk.

The above was instituted for infringement of the Patent covering the manner of fitting the ash pan in the hearth of the American Cooking Stove, and for the combination of the hinged ash pan. We have repeatedly cautioned the public against selling or using stoves with these improvements not manufactured by us. All persons now selling or using stoves with these improvements in violation of the above injunction, without license from us, will be liable to fine and imprisonment. SHEAR, PACKARD & CO., 205-5m. GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN DENTISTRY.

The attention of the public is called to a great discovery in Dentistry.

THE GREATEST ADVANCE STEP EVER MADE IN THE ART.

The main difficulty in wearing artificial teeth is, they do not hold in their place firmly enough, and add to this the annoyance of food getting under the plate while eating. I have discovered a method of so constructing the plate on which the teeth are set that they will not start or drop while eating, or speaking, neither will any particles of food get under the plate, no matter what the condition of the mouth is, which is not true of any method hitherto used.

I have secured Letters Patent for the United States, England and France.

The improvement is not in material, but in the construction, which secures the atmospheric pressure on the entire plate.

I have sold the exclusive rights of improvement to Dr. L. Gilman, to sell the Counties of Franklin, Washington, Chittenden, Lamoille and Grand Isle. Those wishing to avail themselves of such improvement, will call on
